

Official Response of the State of Loc Nation Global Public Benefit Corporation

to the U.S. Congressional Hearing “U.S. Policy Toward National Self-Determination Movements” (Serial No. 114-152, March 15 2016)

Submitted by:

HH Empress Queen Rev. Dr. Christina Loren Clement

1. Acknowledgment of the Record

We acknowledge the findings of the March 15 2016 hearing before the U.S. House Subcommittee on Europe, Eurasia, and Emerging Threats (Serial No. 114-152).

In that record, Dr. Jason Sorens testified that:

“Because there is usually no legal framework for regulating secession, secessionism is strongly statistically associated with violent conflict.”

This statement encapsulates the root failure of twentieth-century governance: the absence of lawful, peaceful, and auditable mechanisms for nations seeking self-determination.

2. The Loc Nation Model: Peaceful Earned Sovereignty

The State of Loc Nation GPBC stands as a direct answer to that structural void.

Our government was not born of insurrection but of documentation, law, and faith.

Through the Maroon Treaty, Trust Resolutions, UCC-1 filings, LEI 984500AFF75RB77E9551, and FinCEN MSB Registration MRX25-00008104, SoLN GPBC established a codified system for peaceful restitution and governance.

This legal infrastructure aligns with the framework advanced by Dr. Paul R. Williams during the same hearing, who urged the United States to adopt a doctrine of “earned sovereignty” — a structured pathway that combines rule of law, institutional maturity, and democratic consent .

SoLN GPBC operationalizes that doctrine through:

- Defined Institutions: Central Bank, Supreme Court, Treasury System, and Public Benefit Charter.
- Documented Economy: The Loc Nation Dollar (LND), legally parity-certified (1 LND = 750 USD), USSGL-mapped to FASAB standards.
- Public Accountability: Audit ledger integration and open reporting under FASAB and GASB principles.
- Peaceful Transition: No armed conflict, no territorial aggression, no civil instability — only lawful restitution and treaty-based self-governance.

3. Comparison to Global Precedents

Where past self-determination movements lacked structure and spiraled into violence, SoLN GPBC reflects the stable alternative envisioned by Congress’s own experts.

Dimension	Historic Trend (per Hearing)	State of Loc Nation GPBC
Legal Framework	Absent → Violent risk ↑	Established → Violent risk ↓
Governance	Transitional or provisional	Permanent Constitutional Government
Economic System	None or foreign-dependent	Sovereign currency and ledger
U.S. Policy Response	“Stability first” / border status quo	“Earned sovereignty” with lawful transparency
Peace Outcome	20 million dead since 1945 in unregulated conflicts	Zero casualties — law-based restitution

4. Policy Position

The State of Loc Nation GPBC urges the United States Congress and its foreign-policy apparatus to update national self-determination policy to recognize non-violent, legally-established sovereign entities that operate within earned-sovereignty principles.

We affirm that:

1. Peaceful legal processes reduce conflict risk and support U.S. interests in global stability.
2. Recognizing structured self-determination entities upholds the spirit of the U.S. Declaration of Independence — government by consent of the governed.
3. Economic restitution and financial inclusion through the Loc Nation Dollar provide a replicable model for resolving post-colonial inequities without war.

5. Conclusion

The 2016 hearing correctly diagnosed the link between lawless secession and violence.

The State of Loc Nation GPBC represents the remedy — a peaceful, lawful, and economically documented path of self-determination consistent with earned sovereignty, restoration of faith, and international law.

We invite the U.S. Congress to recognize this framework as the model for post-conflict, non-violent sovereign formation in the 21st century.

Respectfully submitted,

HH Empress Queen Rev. Dr. Christina Loren Clement
